During the quarter, the value of Berkshire Hathaway decreased significantly giving up the gains made between July 2021 and March 2022. In US dollar terms the value of NYSE: BRK.A and BRK.B decreased by 22.7% and 22.6% respectively. The remainder of the GFL portfolio has remained under pressure from rising inflation and interest rate movements by central banks as noted below.

ECONOMIC COMMENTARY

Equity markets in the fourth quarter have been under pressure as investor sentiment turned increasingly downbeat due to heighten concerns regarding global inflation and ongoing supply chain issues, accentuated by the Ukraine crisis, could see the world move into a recession. Equity markets have priced in interest rate rises and the potential recessionary risks, driving substantial declines in equity valuations. Inflation has continued to be a major issue for most major economies, with several central banks taking appropriate action. This year, the policy response has been far more rapid than previously thought in 2021.

In the US, investors are primarily focused on inflationary fears and the Federal Reserve's policy responses. The US equity market has recorded its worst first half period in 60 years, shifting the market into bear territory. The Fed has signaled more rate hikes to come, noting the difficulty of bringing down inflation without triggering a recession. Despite the economy slowing and early signs of a recession, the US labour market continues to remain strong. During the quarter, unemployment held steady at 3.6%, and wage growth has not kept up with inflationary pressures, with US inflation rising +8.6% compared to a year ago. The S&P500 posted -16.5%, while the Nasdaq posted -22.4% by quarter-end.

In Europe, the ongoing Ukraine conflict has continued to drive steep declines for Eurozone equities as concerns related to gas shortages continue to rise. High inflation and the increasing cost of living are affecting consumer confidence, with the European Central Bank (ECB) expected to raise rates in the coming month. Ongoing disruptions saw Germany shift into phase two of its emergency plan, with the next steps being to ration gas. In the UK, The Bank of England increased its official rate by a combined 50 bps, with equities performing relatively well due to the large cap, defensive stocks. The FTSE posted -4.6%, the CAC -11.1%, and the DAX was -11.3%.

In Asia, China was the outlier with their market being the only region moving into positive territory. As lockdown measures relaxed, investors reacted positively on the back of factory data improving. South Korea was the worst performing region, while Taiwan also suffered on the back of concerns regarding demand for technology products. In Japan, concerns echoed those around the world, with few companies posting surprise results. The Shanghai Composite posted +4.5%, the Hang Seng -0.6%, and the Nikkei was -5.1%.

In Australia, cost of living pressures continues to rise, however, retail sales remain resilient. The Reserve Bank of Australia (RBA) increased interest rates by 50 bps in June, as inflation continues to be a key issue. In Australia, our quarterly inflationary statistics seemed to lag compared to our US and European counterparts, with +2.1% posted in the prior quarter, bringing inflation to 5.1% for the year ending Marchquarter. The unemployment rate remained stable at 3.9%, while the participate rate rose to 66.7%.

The ASX All Ordinaries posted -13.4% for the quarter, ASX 200 -12.4%, the Midcap 50 -15.0%, and the Small Ordinaries was -20.8%, respectively. The AUD depreciated during the quarter, posting -7.7% against the US Dollar (69.0 US cents), -0.5% against the Pound (56.7 pence), and -2.6% against the Euro (65.9 cents).
